

The Washington State Curling Association and the Region 11 International Tankard Committee have made the only decision available to them. With regrets, the 2021 International Tankard is cancelled.

With the Seattle Granite Curling Club closed for the season and curling in British Columbia on indefinite pause due to Covid-19, it was the only decision to make. The three future hosts of the Tankard have been contacted and all three have agreed to postpone their perspective hosting of the Tankard for one year.
